CARRANZISTAS MOVE NORTH

But Washington Does Not Think Their Purpose is a Hostile One

POSSIBLY TRYING TO CAPTURE BANDITS

Mexican Situation Shows Slight Change in Washington—Mobilization of New Mexican National Guard Completed Today.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The despatch of 1,500 Carranza troops northwest toward the border in the Big Bend district of Chihuahua, reported in advices from the international line, was regarded by officials here today as possibly indicating that the Mexican de facto government is making renewed efforts to capture bandits who have raided American border towns.

Reports that the expedition might have a hostile purpose were not regarded seriously by administration authorities. They intimated that the action tended to strengthen their belief that the American and Mexican military authorities at El Paso had reached an unwritten agreement on co-operation along the border to prevent further bandit raids.

The Mexican situation showed no signs of immediate change here today. President Wilson was cruising down the Chesapeake bay on the yacht Mayflower and did not expect to return before Sunday or Monday. Secretary Baker had taken a week-end trip to Atlantic City and Newark, N. J. Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff, was on his way to Washington from El Paso to report on his conferences with Gen. Obregon.

COLUMBUS, N. M., May 13.—Mobilization of 1,000 men of New Mexico national guard was completed here with the arrival early today of additional companies included a battery of artillery.

Recruiting to bring the command to war strength is progressing rapidly through the state, according to reports to the adjutant general.

Reports reaching here from apparently authentic sources said that all southbound supply trucks between Colonia Dublan and Nampiquito are being halted and sent back to hold base at Dublin.

nies of coast artillery reached here today and pitched camp at Fort Sum Houston, near the militia encampment. It was said at headquarters that all of the other companies included will have arrived by night, making a total of seven at this point. Four companies have been sent to strengthen the forces at Marathon and El Paso.

Maj. Gen. Finston will reach headquarters tonight after an absence of more than two weeks necessitated by the conference at El Paso with Gen. Obregon. He is expected to outline a program of work which will place the state troops in condition for service within two or three weeks.

MARATHON, Texas, May 13.—One company of coast artillery arrived here from San Antonio, Texas today. Part of it will go south and join Col. Sibley's expeditionary force, while the remainder will help garrison Marathon. Col. Sibley expects to have direct communication between Rosopolis and Marathon established by Sunday night.

DETACHMENT WILL ATTEND MANEUVERS

Not Enough Automobiles Available to Transport Whole of Company I to Northfield May 20.

Owing to inability to secure enough automobiles in Brattleboro to convey the entire membership of Company I, V. N. G., to the maneuvers to be held at Northfield (Vt.) next Saturday afternoon by the First Cavalry of Vermont, Capt. E. W. Gibson of the company has applied for and has been granted permission to bring a detachment of the company.

The company officers realize that it is asking a great deal of automobile owners to make such a long trip, but they would appreciate deeply any offer by owners of automobiles to carry some of the company. Already four cars have been promised, which will accommodate about 20 men, and it is probable that enough will be added to this number to make it possible to carry about half of the company.

It is expected that the detachment will leave Brattleboro at 6 o'clock this morning for the ride of 115 miles, going by way of Bellows Falls and the Vermont National Guard, and by White River Junction and making the trip to Northfield in about five hours. It may be decided to remain there over night and return Sunday, or the return may be made that same night.

The idea of the mobilization has been approved by Lieut. J. C. Waterman, U. S. A., inspector-instructor of the Vermont National Guard, and by Lieut. R. M. Parker, U. S. A., commandant of Norwich university.

WILSON AND T. R. AHEAD.

Result of Primary in New Jersey Shows This Situation.

TRENTON, N. J., May 13.—A canvass of the vote cast at the preferential primaries held here on April 25 shows that Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt led in the choices for President, as announced by Secretary of State Thomas F. Martin today. In addition to expressing a choice for President votes were cast for delegates at large and district delegates to both the Republican and Democratic conventions.

Although the Democrats filed a petition nominating Woodrow Wilson for the Presidency, the Republicans neglected to take advantage of the law in this respect and in some instances opportunity was not given to the voters of that party to express their preference.

In the Democratic primaries President Wilson received 25,497 votes. The vote for Presidential preference on the Republican ballot was more or less scattering. The Republican choice for President was as follows: Theodore Roosevelt, 1,066; Justice Hughes, 383; Henry Ford, 84, and Elihu Root, 67.

REFUSED TO LEAVE, HOISTED SWEDISH FLAG

Germans Then Boarded Vessel and With Cutlasses Forced Him into Small Boat—Oil Then Set on Fire—
Later Fired Upon.

STOCKHOLM, via London, May 13.—The captain of the Swedish schooner Harald gives an account of the sinking of his ship by a German submarine in the North Sea on May 5. The ship was halted by the submarine, the commander of which gave the crew 15 minutes in which to abandon the schooner.

The commander of the Harald refused to obey this order and hoisted the Swedish flag. The Germans then boarded the schooner, poured petroleum over the ship and lit it.

Then they attacked the captain with cutlasses, forcing him into a small boat. The blazing petroleum not destroying the Harald, the ship was sunk by gunfire from the submarine.

AGREE ON ARMY BILL.

Peace Strength of 208,000 Will Be Reported to Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—A regular army of 208,000 men at peace strength capable of expansion to 257,000 men in time of war was agreed upon today by the house and senate conferred of the army reorganization bill. The report will be submitted to both branches of congress for ratification next week.

In the agreement on the regular army bill the senate system of organization was retained as a substitute for the house system, which would have recruited a maximum army of 140,000 men. The regular line of the army, the bill now provides, can never go below 160,000 and its maximum strength in times of peace would be 175,000 officers and men. In this calculation, however, there are excluded Philippine scouts and others to a total of 31,559. These added to the regular line of 175,000 give a total of 206,559.

The President is authorized to increase the regular army division to maximum strength without congressional action.

BIDS FOR AIR MAIL ROUTE.

Service to Be Installed in Bay State and Alaska.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Bids were opened at the postoffice department yesterday on the government's first aerial mail service routes. They would be in Alaska and Massachusetts. If the service proves successful a gradual expansion will follow to other routes, where transportation is slow or inadequate.

Seven routes in Alaska will form a connecting link between Seward and Nome, thence to Fairbanks and back to Valdez. The longest route is 358 miles. The Massachusetts route is from New Bedford to Nantucket, 56 miles and return.

ON WEEK-END VACATION.

President and Mrs. Wilson Leave for Over-Sunday Yachting Trip.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., May 13.—The yacht Mayflower, with President and Mrs. Wilson aboard for a week-end cruise, anchored off the shipyard here this morning. The naval yacht Sylph was waiting off Newport News and soon after the President's arrival he and Mrs. Wilson left the Mayflower and went aboard. The Sylph started immediately for a trip up the James river and it was expected the President would visit the ruins of Jamestown. No salutes were fired as the Mayflower passed Fortress Monroe and battleships anchored in Hampton Roads, and the President's flag was not shown.

TODAY'S WAR SUMMARY

The Douaumont region on the Verdun front, where the Germans for more than two months have been held fairly close to the line of their original advance in the German drive, is again the scene of desperate fighting. Violent bombardment of French positions in this sector yesterday was followed by strong attacks, in which, according to the afternoon bulletin from Paris, the Germans suffered many losses and failed to gain any ground.

Across the Meuse to the northwest of Verdun no infantry encounters are reported, but the artillery is being kept busy, the firing on both sides being virtually without cessation.

Vienna today reports continually increasing activity from the vicinity of the Volhynian fortress triangle on the Russian front. The moves of the opposing commanders, however, have not yet resulted in decisive results for either side nor have there been important shifts in the line along Austro-Italian front.

The resignation of Dr. Clemens Dellebrueck, German vice-chancellor and minister of the interior, is reported by the American ambassador from Berlin. His health is given as the reason for his withdrawal from official life. Dissatisfaction has been widely expressed in Germany recently with ministerial handling of the food situation as the outgrowth of which riots have been reported and there have been hints recently that the resignation of Dr. Dellebrueck was imminent in this connection.

GRANGERS ENTER INSURANCE FIELD

Association Formed in Bellows Falls. with Brattleboro Members—Commissioners Approve.

(Special to The Reflector.)

BELLOWS FALLS, May 13.

Guy W. Bailey and Walter F. Scott, ex-officio insurance commissioners for the state, granted the Patrons Cooperative Disability Association, Inc., permission yesterday afternoon to do business in this state, following a meeting in the office of Ryder & Graham. The association is planned to assist members of the Grange financially in case of illness or other disability. The officers and directors are men prominent in the State Grange and several attended the meeting yesterday. Guy W. Bailey, master of Fall Mountain Grange of Bellows Falls, organizer of the association, explained to the commissioners the plans under which the association will work. The charter was explained and the commissioners questioned him closely in regard to various matters pertaining to it. They evidently were satisfied, as with little delay they gave permission to do business.

The association was organized in Bellows Falls March 21. The officers elected were as follows: President, W. M. Cady of Middlebury, master of the Vermont State Grange; chief clerk, A. C. Halladay of Bellows Falls; treasurer, E. M. Farr of Chester; directors for one year, G. C. Flint of Brattleboro, A. M. Richards of Bellows Falls, H. F. Spitznberger of Bellows Falls, G. F. Kent of Bellows Falls; directors for two years, R. M. Campbell of Bellows Falls, W. Sargent of Brattleboro, H. M. Farnham of Montpelier, O. L. Martin of Plainfield, former commissioner of agriculture; directors for three years, W. M. Robbins of Brattleboro, E. H. Hallett of St. Johnsbury, F. A. DeWitt of Newfane and H. A. Stoddard of Bellows Falls.

These officers, it is understood, are but temporary, and another meeting will be held within two or three weeks to elect new officers and directors.

There are 18,000 Grangers in Vermont, 175,000 in New England and 112,000 in New York state. This makes the field a good one in which the new association may work. It is the first one of its kind to be organized by and for Grangers. It is planned to pay a sick or total disability benefit of $5 or $10 a week and the premiums and entrance fee will be small. It will be exclusively for members of the Grange.

Among those present at the meeting yesterday were Governor Graves, Ex-Commissioner Martin, R. M. Campbell of Dorset, master of Dorset Grange, H. W. Sargent, a member of the executive board of the state Grange, of Brattleboro, W. M. Robbins of Brattleboro, E. M. Farr of Chester, gatekeeper of the Vermont State Grange, A. C. Halladay, master of Fall Mountain Grange, and H. F. Spitznberger and G. F. Kent of Bellows Falls, and Warner A. Graham, attorney for the association.

H. WILSON SUES N. HAPGOOD.

Claims $350,000 Damages in an Action for Libel.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Henry Lane Wilson, former American ambassador to Mexico, has filed in the supreme court of the district of Columbia a suit for $350,000 damages for alleged libel against Norman Hapgood, former publisher of Harper's Weekly. The complaint alleges that Mr. Hapgood was responsible for the publication of a series of articles by Robert H. Murray, holding Mr. Wilson up to public ridicule.

Mr. Wilson sets forth that he served 16 years in the diplomatic service as minister to Belgium and Chile and ambassador to Mexico; that he performed his duties faithfully and had never been charged with being incompetent, unskillful, or deficient. The complaint refers particularly to a series of articles entitled "Huerta and the Two Wilsons," in which the question is said to have been raised whether Mr. Wilson was concerned in the plot to assassinate President Madero of Mexico.

G. C. AVERILL IS ACQUITTED

Jury Returned Verdict Last Night at 9 o'clock of Not Guilty

RETURNED ONCE FOR INSTRUCTIONS

Mr. Averill Expresses His Thanks—
Will Return This Afternoon—Was Charged with Making Entries to Deceive on Bank's Books.

At about 9 o'clock last evening the jury for nearly two weeks in the United States court at Burlington had heard the evidence in the case of the United States against George C. Averill of Brattleboro, former president of the Vermont National bank of this town, returned a verdict of not guilty. The jury was then dismissed by Judge Augustus Hand of New York, who presided at the trial. The jury had been out since 11.15 o'clock, with the exception of the time taken for meals, and the hours had dragged along wearily. Mr. Averill naturally was very much pleased with the verdict, and he expressed his thanks to the jury and grasped the hands of his attorneys. Tears moistened the eyes of Mr. Averill's daughter, Mrs. Margaret Averill Adams of Springfield, Mass., who sat with him in the courtroom. Mr. Averill is expected home this afternoon on the 4.27 train.

The jury came in soon after 2 o'clock in the afternoon and asked for instructions on one or two minor points. The question which they had to consider was the charge that Mr. Averill made entries on the books of the bank with criminal intent, that is, with intent to deceive, in violation of the national banking laws.

The jury consisted of these men: Carroll Bottom, New Haven; M. L. Brooks, St. Albans; L. E. Brigham, Burlington; H. E. Barnham, Richmond; O. G. Carpenter, Essex Junction; Frank Ford, Isle La Motte; George K. Fees, Hyde Park; F. S. Lanou, Burlington; Charles E. McNamara, Northfield; J. W. Reynolds, East Georgia; W. F. Shepard, Barre; Frank Talcott, Williston.

It has been stated that Judge J. M. Tyler of this town, one of the directors of the Vermont National bank, testified that he approached Mr. Kelleher relative to taking Mr. Averill's place. The transcript of the testimony on that point, when Judge Tyler was being questioned by Attorney Clark F. Fitts, is as follows:

Q. When Mr. Averill was not present did Mr. Kelleher give the directors some advice or directions about getting rid of Mr. Averill? A. Yes, after Mr. Averill had made the remark I have just related (which was about the bank being as sound as a rock) and had left the room Mr. Kelleher made this remark: "You see I can't get anything out of him," and then he commented on these things that he claimed were wrong and he said: "You ought to get rid of him," quite emphatically.

Q. Used pretty strong language? A. I don't know as I can use the adjectives.

Q. What was said then; after he said that, what was said? A. Well, I said I thought that at Mr. Kelleher's right hand, close to him, and I said to Mr. Kelleher: "This is a pretty serious situation; the cashier, Richardson, is out of the bank on account of ill health and if Mr. Averill is to be summarily dismissed I don't know what we could do." I was distressed, if you will allow me to say it. I was distressed in mind for I did not know how we could run the bank with Mr. Richardson and Mr. Averill both out of it. Then I said to Mr. Kelleher: "You have been all over the state in the examination of banks and perhaps you have in mind some bank man that could come here and take Mr. Averill's place if he is to go out. Well, he dropped his head for an instant and he said: "No, I don't think of anybody." I said to him: "A name occurs to me at this instant and perhaps you may know him, and that is Col. Curtis Emery, formerly of Chelsea." I said: "He used to be the cashier of the little national bank in Chelsea, but for the last three or four years he has been in the custom house in Newport, which is now closed, and probably he is out of business. He happens to occur to me as the only man I know that is a bank man." He said he didn't know him. Q. Then what was said? A. The next remark that was made was by Mr. Kelleher. He said: "I may not get every word exactly, but as I remember it he said: 'I have been looking about for such a place myself.' Dr. Lawton, who sat at the other end of the table, said: 'Why, Mr. Kelleher, you could not afford to give up your present position to take charge of this bank,' and he said: 'Oh, yes,' and he made some remark about the comparative salaries, but I don't remember what, and there it dropped, and I do not remember anything further that he said then.

Q. Later on, did he have another talk with you about the presidency of the bank at some later visit to Brattleboro? A. When he was there making the July examination I dropped in to the bank one afternoon to see how he was getting along and he asked me this question—he said: "Have you done anything about a president of your bank yet?" I said: "Dr. Holton, we think we shall run along in this way. Dr. Holton is not a working president, but we are supplying Mr. Averill's place as well as we can and we think we will go along this year as we are." And he said: Well, just remember me." That is all that passed between us; it was all very pleasant; I think I said I would, though.

WOMAN FINED.

Jury Took Six Minutes to Convict
Mrs. Burns of Middlebury.

MIDDLEBURY, May 13.—It took a jury in municipal court yesterday six minutes to find Mrs. John Burns, wife of the proprietor of the Logan house, guilty of keeping liquor for sale and she was fined $400 and costs by Judge James B. Donaway. Her attorney, Ira A. LaFleur, appealed the case on exceptions. During the afternoon Deputy Sheriff N. J. Sanborn arrested Mrs. Burns' husband on the charge of selling and furnishing liquor and he was held under $700 bonds for appearance in municipal court May 23. Mrs. Burns furnished $400 bonds pending the disposition of her appeal.

Two witnesses testified to purchasing liquor at the Logan house but not of Mrs. Burns. Liquor, which the state alleges is of an intoxicating nature, which was seized at a raid of the hotel Wednesday by deputy sheriffs, was introduced in court.

RYDER GIVEN LARGE AWARD

Verdict Against Last Block
Co. $6,985—May Be Appealed

BRAZACH GIVEN PRISON SENTENCE

Pleading Guilty to Entering O. O.
Ware's Store in Wilmington—Tony Olivaro of Same Town Found Guilty of Receiving Stolen Property.

In county court yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock the jury before which was tried the $15,000 suit for personal injuries of Alfred H. Ryder of Brattleboro against the Vermont Last Block Co. of Brattleboro, returned a verdict for the plaintiff to recover $6,985.37. The jury was out five hours.

The plaintiff claimed that a defect in a chute, into which last blocks were dumped from a conveyor, caused a heavy maple block to jump over the side of the chute and hit him on the head, causing injuries from which he has never recovered.

The defendant company claimed that the plaintiff walked in front of the mouth of the chute, into which he knew the blocks were being dumped by the conveyor at the time, and that the accident was the result of his own carelessness and not due to a defect in the chute.

The plaintiff produced a witness who testified that he saw Ryder immediately after he was knocked down and that he was under the chute and not near the mouth. The plaintiff and two of his witnesses testified that they inspected the chute after the accident and found that a section of the metal bottom had been broken and the edges turned up which caused the block to jump out over the side.

The foreman of the shop and other employees testified that they also inspected the chute after the accident and that there was no defect in it. Harrie B. Chase and F. E. Barber appeared for Ryder and Gleason & Wilcox of Montpelier represented the defendant. The case is likely to go to the supreme court.

While the jury had heard the evidence in the case of the state against Tony Olivaro of Wilmington, who was charged with receiving or buying stolen property was out considering that case this morning Steve Brazach, charged with burglarizing the store of O. O. Ware in Wilmington, came into court and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to not less than three and one-half years or more than four and one-half years at hard labor in the state prison at Windsor. At 2 o'clock the Olivaro jury returned a verdict of guilty. Sentence was deferred to Monday and court took a recess to Monday at 2 o'clock. Sheriff Mann took Brazach to Windsor this afternoon.
